

GERMANS ARE POURING TROOPS INTO FLANDERS

SET OUT TO CAPTURE YPRES, THE KEY TO FRENCH COAST PORTS

Canadians Regain Most of Lost Ground in Brilliant Counter-Attack—Fighting Continues in Champagne, the Woivre and the Carpathians.

London, April 24.—(10:15 p. m.)—The Germans are pouring troops into Flanders to press the attack which at the beginning has forced the allies back to the Yser canal, to the north of Ypres. This movement, according to reports reaching Holland, has assumed even greater dimensions than those which preceded the battle that raged for more than two weeks in this same region last October. On that occasion the operations ended in the discomfort of the Germans who had declared their intention of pushing their way through to Calais.

It appears that the Germans have a similar aim today and have set out to capture Ypres, which is described as the key to the French coast ports.

Regain Most of Ground.

While the attack originally met with considerable success, due, according to the allies' reports, to the use by the Germans of asphyxiating gases, it is said to have been already checked. The Canadians who held the extreme left of the British line and were forced to retire when the rest of the front was pressed back, made a brilliant counter-attack, regaining most of the ground which they had conceded and retaking four guns which they had left in the hands of the Germans.

In the words of Sir John French, they saved the situation.

The British report does not say how much ground they recovered, but the statement in Berlin of the report that a British attack at St. Julian was repulsed shows that they are well back in their old positions. For this town, which is on the main road between Ypres and Poelcapelle, is immediately south of Langemark, from which point the German attack was launched.

Maintain Hold on Canal.

The Germans, however, still maintain their hold on the Yser canal, further north, for they speak of storming the village of Lizerne, which is across the canal between the towns of Steenstraete and Het Sast, which they took in their first rush.

The German attack to the south of Ypres which was made simultaneously with that to the north apparently failed entirely.

These attacks are believed to be the commencement of another big battle, which, with both sides strongly entrenched, promises to be one of the bitterest and bloodiest of the war. Telegrams from Holland tonight tell not only of the movement of German reinforcements to the front, but of long trains of dead and wounded which are passing to the rear—a condition of affairs which also must exist in the rear of the allied army. The outcome of this battle is awaited with the utmost eagerness.

In the meantime fighting goes on in Champagne and the Woivre, as well as in the Carpathians. Despite torrential rains the Russians appear to have resumed their attacks on the Austro-German positions guarding Uzkok Pass. The capture by the Russians of Hill 1,001, it is claimed, will greatly facilitate their operations, reducing in importance Hill 992, which the Austrians still hold.

Confirmation of this new Russian offensive is contained in the Austrian official report, which records fighting on the Turka road, which traverses Uzkok Pass.

Sinks Neutral Vessels.

There is no reliable news of operations in the Dardanelles or the North Sea, but in the latter region there is evidence of activity on the part of the Germans, who have sunk or captured several neutral vessels. The Danish steamer Nidaros, was captured; the Norwegian bark Osca and Eva and the Swedish steamer Ruth, were torpedoed by submarines; the Norwegian steamer Capri was blown up by a mine off the English coast, while the Finnish steamer Frack was torpedoed in the Baltic.

Diplomats are watching Italy which apparently has not yet reached a decision on her future attitude.

FIGHT FILMS BARRED.

According to a special ruling of the treasury department at Washington, D. C., made last week, the Willard-Johnson fight films will not be shown in the United States, for the special ruling was re-enforced in a letter of instruction to all federal officials, authorizing them to confiscate any films of the fight which might be brought into the country.

The action of the department is based on the congressional enactment of July 31, 1912, which prohibits the exhibition of all fight films whether they come under the head of prize fights or mere boxing bouts, and in its note the department warns exhibitors and exchange men, as well as importers, that they will be vigorously prosecuted if any attempt to show the pictures is made.

EIGHTY BIG CHICAGO LUMBER FIRMS CLOSE THEIR YARDS

Action is Due Chiefly to a Lack of Demand for Material Caused by Carpenters' Strike—Arbitrators Are Expected to Meet Monday.

Chicago, April 24.—Five thousand more men were added to the list of 125,000 unemployed in Chicago today when practically all of the eighty big lumber firms in the city closed their yards, pending settlement of the carpenters' strike. The action of the lumbermen was due chiefly to a lack of demand for material.

The lumber yards that have shut down do an estimated annual business of $25,000,000.

The arbitration boards of the carpenters' district council and the Carpenter Contractors' association are expected to meet again on Monday. Until then it is said, no joint effort would be made to effect a settlement. The building construction employers association met today and prepared an ultimatum which they said would be sent to six unions which thus far have failed to signify their intention of signing the uniform building trades agreement. Six unions will be locked out May 1st, unless the agreement is signed prior to that date. The unions threatened are the cement finishers, drain layers, marble fitters, bridge and structural iron workers, sheet metal workers, tile layers. There are 4,800 members of these unions in Chicago.

JAPANESE NOT WARLIKE SAYS AMERICAN CIVIL ENGINEER

Mark S. Sanders, Now Guest in City, Gives Impressions Gleaned From Three Years in Tokyo.

That Japan does not look upon America through the eye of national ambition but is well content with her eastern fields of expansion, is the belief of Mark S. Sanders, for three years past in Tokyo, and in Jacksonville for a brief visit with his sister, Mrs. William N. Hairgrove, 139 Caldwell street. Mr. Sanders is a native of Iowa and a graduate in civil engineering at Ames. He is engaged in installation of Kahn System reinforced concrete for the American Trading Co., and has worked in various Japanese cities and in Formosa.

Mr. Sanders left Japan Feb. 21, a few weeks after the fall of Tsin-tau, the German concession in China. Japanese opinion seems uniform that the new possession is retained, he says, although it is trade opportunity rather than more territory they desire. Southern China is rich in iron and other products needed by the Island Empire and Japanese regard the trade of that land as theirs by natural right.

The Japanese are not a warlike people despite impressions we might gain from their victory in the war with Russia or the capture of Esing-tau. They love their country and are intensely loyal to their emperor but hold America in no bad repute and seem to harbor no enmity towards Germany. Japan has a lingering as well as the United States press and much anti-American sentiment may be traced to irresponsible journals.

Freezing Out the Foreigner.

The days of the foreigner in Japan are numbered, intimated Mr. Sanders in speaking of the future of his profession in that country. As a people Japanese are quick to learn and coolly and systematically they begin the elimination of their teacher and competitor, as soon as they feel able to stand alone. In concrete construction work, the most serious competition comes from native sources. In other industries the situation is the same and there will come a time when Japan will be "for Japanese" exclusively.

Much of the reputed dishonest business practice in Japan may be imputed to imitation of the foreign trader, thinks Mr. Sanders. In the past there have been trading concerns which exploited the Japanese without compunction and it is but natural that he return the favor in kind.

English coercion is ascribed by many as the real cause of Japan's participation in the European conflict. Japan has a closer affinity for Germany than for any other continental power and it is unthinkable that England did not lead her into war with Germany.

CHARACTERIZE WALSH'S CONCLUSIONS AS FALSE

ROCKEFELLER ISSUES STATEMENT IN REFERENCE TO CORRESPONDENCE

States He Would Be Glad to Appear to Give Additional Testimony Before the Commission at Any Time—Walsh Says Statement is Most Gratifying.

New York, April 24.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr. gave out a statement late today in reference to the correspondence between himself and L. M. Bowers, chairman of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company which was made public yesterday by Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the United States commission on industrial relations. Mr. Rockefeller characterizes as false the conclusions which Mr. Walsh drew from the correspondence. He asserts Mr. Walsh had drawn inferences without ascertaining whether they were correct, a "proceeding which is wholly indefensible."

He said further that he would be glad to appear to give additional testimony before the commission at any time, "for we are desirous that the public shall have all the facts."

Walsh Makes Statement.

Kansas City, Mo., April 24.—Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the federal commission on industrial relations, said in a statement tonight:

"Mr. Rockefeller's statement, in which he declared he would be glad to return to the witness stand and answer any questions concerning his interests in Colorado, is the most important and most gratifying this commission has received."

"In the statement which Mr. Rockefeller says he will make I challenge him to say whether L. M. Bowers told the truth in his letter of April 4th, 1914, in which he says the Colorado Fuel & Iron company leads in fixing prices and conditions of labor."

Quotes Letter to Lee.

"Under date of June 14th, 1914, Mr. Rockefeller wrote to his publicity agent, Ivy Lee, a copy of which letter has been filed with the commission's records. The letter says: 'Several points in my memorandum, however, could well, even more appropriately be used in the letter from Governor Ammons to President Wilson which you are proposing to write as soon as the major's memorandum reaches you.'"

"The public will not be satisfied unless Mr. Rockefeller sets out in full the memorandum which he desired Mr. Lewis to use in the letter from Governor Ammons to the president. The statement should also give the name of the major referred to and details of the memorandum made up by the major. This will be of importance in view of the fact that Governor Ammons has declared it to be a lie that Mr. Lee furnished him any draft to be used in a letter to the president or to the governors of other states. Also Mr. Rockefeller should let the public know how the drafts of the letters for the governors to sign as referred to in the correspondence with Mr. Lee, reached the Governor."

Consequently Swoboda is presumed to be of German nationality.

WILL SEND DIVERS DOWN TODAY

Honolulu, T. H., April 24.—One or more divers will be lowered tomorrow for the purpose of making another survey of the submerged submarine F-4, it was announced tonight.

Plans have been made to attack an air hose to the hull to force air into it. This, it is thought, would decrease the vessel's weight by a hundred tons. It will be done if the divers report that the top is not punctured and the salvage valve is accessible.

If the weight can be decreased in this manner the work of towing the bulk toward shore will be made much easier.

Taft Makes Three Addresses

Baltimore, Md., April 24.—Former President William H. Taft made three addresses here today. He spoke on the "opportunities of citizenship" at the City Club a few hours after Secretary of State Bryan had given advice to new voters at the same place. The former president then went to the Johns Hopkins University where he gave an intimate view of the "presidency, its powers, its functions and its responsibilities." Mr. Taft also spoke at the banquet tonight of Yale alumni.

The Hague, via London, April 24.—(9:17 p. m.)—A memorial addressed to President Woodrow Wilson, signed by about forty thousand Belgian refugees now in Holland, expressing gratitude for the aid which America has extended to the Belgian war sufferers, was mailed to Washington today.

War News Summarized

The British troops in the neighborhood of Ypres are still sustaining heavy attacks by the German forces to which they have replied with counterattacks. The French and Belgians are making slow advances along the same line, where they are endeavoring to win back the territory which they lost when a heavily reinforced German army, preparing the way with artillery fire and gas bombs, pressed them back in the last day or two.

The British report, as well as the French official statement, declares that a considerable amount of this ground has been retaken and Field Marshal French himself gives great credit to the Canadian contingent, which, having been obliged to withdraw on account of its exposed position, delivered a brilliant counter-attack, recaptured four of its heavy guns which had been left behind and saved the situation.

Further to the south, in the Ailly wood, the Germans also have inaugurated a determined movement against trenches which they lost on April 22nd. The fighting in this section has been of a desperate nature, for, after having evacuated part of this position, the French made a furious onslaught and regained possession of it. There is renewed activity in the fighting in the Carpathians. The Austrians were repulsed with enormous losses during attacks made on April 22nd, and on the night of April 23rd, on the heights occupied by the Russians in the vicinity of Polen, according to a Russian official statement.

Heavy artillery engagements are proceeding at some points near the Uzkok pass it is announced from Vienna. Russian night attacks along the Turka road and west of it are expected. A council of the Italian ministers which was to have been held on Saturday afternoon to discuss the international situation was postponed because that minister of foreign affairs, Sonnino, is not yet ready to communicate anything definite to the ministers concerning the negotiations with Austria and Germany.

According to report Austria has made further concessions to Italy but these are not satisfactory and it is expected that Baron Sonnino is holding out firmly to the demands representing a minimum of what Italy expects if she preserves her neutrality.

Italy's full military strength is placed at two million men by French military experts.

A Paris dispatch says Christakis Zographos foreign minister of Greece is quoted as declaring that Greece is ready to join the allies in the Dardanelles operations if she is invited to do so.

Others are committing suicide to escape the terrors of hunger and thousands are on the verge of starvation in the province of Szechuan, China, because of famine, according to mail advices to the state department received today from E. Carlton Baker, American consul at Chung-Kiang.

The famine is due to a protracted drought particularly in the region of Fuchow and Chung-Chow. It is not thought that conditions will improve until the next harvest in the late summer. Consul Baker's message stated.

President Yuan Shi Kai is said to have authorized an expenditure of $100,000 for relief of the sufferers. The letter to the department was dated March 10th, last.

T THOMPSON TESTIFIES AT HEARING ON WATERWAY BILL

Says Completion of Project Would Overcome Handicap—Jay Morton Testifies.

Chicago, April 24.—Eastern shippers were given an advantage over Chicagoans with the building of the Panama Canal, as they can ship goods cheaper to the Pacific coast than is possible from Chicago, Mayor-elect William Hale Thompson testified before a joint committee of the legislature here today.

The completion of the proposed deep waterway between Chicago and New Orleans would overcome the handicap, Mayor-elect Thompson said.

"Let us stop quibbling over petty details," he said, "and get something built that will carry freight."

Joy Morton who with Sterling Morton is given credit for being an original promoter of the idea of utilizing the old Illinois and Michigan canal in the deep waterways project said:

"The old canal is the key to the entire rate situation in the Mississippi Valley and this part of the great lakes basin. Give us seven feet between Lockport and LaSalle and Chicago will be on a plain with Kansas City. If carried out this project would mean the transportation of at least a million tons a month by barge."

PRaises Canadian Troops.

REPORT BREAK BETWEEN VILLA AND ANGELES

VILLA ORDERS HIS PERSONAL FOLLOWERS TO TORREON

Rupture is Reported to the Washington Carranza Agency in a Message From Eagle Pass, Texas—State Department Receives Nothing to Confirm Reports.

Washington, April 24.—A serious rupture between General Villa and his chief lieutenant, General Angeles, was reported to the Carranza agency here today in a message from Eagle Pass, Texas. General Villa, the message added, has ordered his personal followers to Torreon, where he was concentrating garrisons from towns along the border. General Angeles remained at Aguas Calientes, it was stated, to meet the advance of General Obregon from Irapuato.

No advice reached the state department today tending to confirm these reports.

Officials have said they had no knowledge of a break between Generals Villa and Angeles.

The text of the Eagle Pass message, as given out at the Carranza agency tonight is as follows:

"The serious breach between Villa and the ex-federals serving under him, caused by Villa laying all the blame for his recent defeats on the cowardice of the ex-federals and this charge embracing General Angeles, has caused Villa to order all his followers to concentrate at Torreon. Urbina has evacuated San Luis Potosi and proceeded to Zacatecas, where he is covering the retreat of Villa. All the garrisons along the border have been ordered to evacuate and concentrate at Torreon without delay. This leaves General Angeles, Raoul and Emilio Madero to face the brunt of Obregon's advance toward the north."

Douglas, Ariz., April 24.—General Iturbide, the Carranza commander, coming up from Sinaloa to reinforce General Calles in Sonora, has been defeated and Navajoa, captured by Villa troops under General Juan Garza, according to a message received today by the Villa agency here from Jose Maytorena, General Sosa, Maytorena's cavalry chief, is pursuing Iturbide's retreating and disorganized column, it was stated.

The decision upheld the circuit court of Lee county.

Thompson to be Mayor Monday.

William Hale Thompson will tomorrow take office as mayor of Chicago, succeeding Carter Harrison. The ceremony of inauguration will take place Monday evening.

Mayor Thompson has had an interesting career. He was born in Boston in 1858, and was a newsboy before going west to make his way. As a cowboy and brakeman in the west, he built up a robust constitution. He is interested in sports, and is an enthusiastic yachtsman.

According to his announcement, one of the first acts of Mayor Thompson will be an order to the police department to clear the city of crooks. The most severe task that confronts him is the formulation of some basis for settlement of the labor troubles which have tied up the building construction in the city.

"America" is 408 Years Old Today.

At St. Die, a French town which was recently honored by the Germans, the name "America" was first pronounced on April 25, 1497. On that day a geography was published at St. Die, containing the following: "There is a fourth quarter of the world which Amerigo Vesputi discovered and which for this reason we call 'America,' the land of America. We do not see why the name of this man of genius Amerigo, who has discovered them, should not be given to these lands—the more so that Asia and Europe bear the names of women."

At the Chicago World's Fair in 1893 a special hall was reserved to St. Die. In that hall was exposed in a glass case, open at wage 30, a copy of the book where the name "America" first appears.

The Jacksonville Dollar.

"I am a Dollar! A little ago, perhaps, but still for being in circulation, I am no tomato can dollar—not I. This town is only my adopted home, but I like it and hope to remain permanently. When I came out of the mint I was adopted into a town like this in another state. But, after a time, I was sent off to a big city, many miles away. I turned up in a mail order house. For several years I stayed in that city. Millionaires bought cigars with me. I didn't like that, for I believe in the plain people.

"Finally a traveling man brought me to this town and left me here. I was so glad to get back to a smaller town that I was determined to make a desperate effort to stay. One day a citizen of this town was about to send me back to the big city. I caught him looking over a mail order catalogue. Suddenly I found my voice and said to him:

"Look here, if you let me stay in this town I'll circulate around and do you a lot of good. You buy a big beefsteak with me, and a butcher will buy groceries, and the grocer will buy hardware, and the hardwareman will pay his doctor bill with me, and the doctor will spend me with a farmer for oats to feed his horse, and the farmer will buy some fresh meat from the butcher, who will come around to the dentist, to get his tooth mended. In the long run, as you see, I'll be more useful to you here at home than if you send me away forever."

"The man said it was a mighty stiff argument. He hadn't looked at it in that light before, so he went and bought the beefsteaks, and I began to circulate around home again. Now, just suppose all the other dollars that are sent to Chicago or some other big city were kept circulating right here at home, you could see the town grow. Honest, now ain't I right?"

Shanahan Points to Good Work.

Although there are a number of politicians who do not share his view, Speaker Shanahan, of the Illinois general assembly, believes that the present session will finish its work at some date prior to that which marked the adjournment of the assembly two years ago. Mr. Shanahan says that the fact that the assembly has not passed any more bills at this time than was true of the last previous assembly does not indicate that the work has not progressed more rapidly. He says that the members of the legislature have shown a disposition to push the work forward, and that as a result practically all reports from committees will be ready the coming week.

Because of changes in rules, the speaker believes that the discussion of bills will not consume nearly so long as has been true in previous years. Heretofore there has been a lot of argument after bills were given the second reading, and much of this argument was reiterated on the third reading. The change in the rules cut out all argument on second reading, and made the third reading the only time for extended debate. Mr. Shanahan declares that when bills once get on the calendar that they all have a fair chance in the assembly and that this plan of procedure will avoid the rush which usually comes at the end of the session, and should result in general satisfaction on the part of the assemblymen because of the consideration accorded their measures.

CATCHING SPEED FIENDS.

A. R. Myrick recently notified in the Journal a statement that an order has been given by the chief of police to patrolmen to arrest all autoists breaking the speed laws. He suggests that if the police are unable to make arrests that one or two of them be mounted on motorcycles, pursue offenders and time them and that a city ordinance provide a fine of so much per mile. This is the plan used in a number of cities.

A MUSEUM ON WHEELS.

A traveling museum that goes to the public schools with illustrative material at the time it is needed is successfully used by the St. Louis, Mo., schools, according to a bulletin issued by the U. S. Bureau of Education.

It was the Exposition of 1904 that first gave St. Louis the opportunity to extend to its schools the educational advantages of a great museum. After the fair had closed a number of the exhibitors donated parts of their displays to the public schools, and in this way the nucleus of an educational museum was outlined.

After the material for the museum had been grouped, the question of using it most profitably had to be settled. As it was found impracticable to supply every one of the hundred public schools of the city with a separate museum, it was decided that there should be one museum for all the schools and that by means of an automobile truck the museum material should be sent to the various schools.

The museum is arranged in close connection with the course of study followed in the schools. Among the groups of exhibits are: "Food products, material for clothing, mounted animals, the life and occupations of different peoples of the world, charts and colored pictures illustrating history, minerals and ores, and charts illustrating geography, astronomy, and physiology." The museum reports show that in point of popularity the pictorial charts come first. Material for clothing and the exhibit on food products come next in order of demand.

The traveling museum of St. Louis has 7,000 individual and duplicate collections; 4,000 lantern slides; 8,000 stereoscopic views; and 2,000 colored charts and photographs. The school authorities make a point of the fact that there is nothing in the traveling museum which can not be used in direct connection with the work of the schools. It contains no curiosities nor abnormalities, no freaks of nature.

The main purpose of the museum is to bring facts home to the pupils as realistically as possible. Thus by means of the cotton exhibit the children are taken to the cotton fields, where they study the plant, the method of preparing the soil, the harvesting; to the cotton gin, where the seed is separated from the lint; to the market to see the baling and shipping; to the cotton factories, where the linen spun and woven in to fabrics; and to the refineries to learn how cottonseed oil is made, cottonseed oil soap is made. The supply of the demands for cotton goods is shown by a comparison of the crude implements used by the inhabitants of the Philippine Islands with the magnificent machinery in the large eastern factories as pictured by the stereoscope and lantern slides.

Roodhouse Entertains Junior Etude Club.

The Junior Etude club of Jacksonville was entertained Saturday at Roodhouse by a similar musical organization of that city. Several weeks ago the Roodhouse girls were guests here and the hospitality was returned yesterday.

Upon arriving at Roodhouse the visitors were met at the trains with automobiles and taken a ride over the city and the ride ended at the Baptist church where a most elegant banquet awaited them. The tables were very prettily decorated in red and white and after the feast of good things Miss Irene Jolly was introduced as toastmaster and the following toasts were given:

"How I came to be here"—Hazel Widmayer, Jacksonville.
"A minor key"—Margaret Thompson, Roodhouse.

"Allegro Moderato"—Lola Mark-Ellie, Jacksonville.

Happy are we met.
Happy have we been.
Happy may be ours.
Happy may we meet again.

During the banquet Dr. Smith, pastor of the Baptist church, gave a musical program and then all adjourned to the new high school building where the Roodhouse girls gave a program of an hour and a half length consisting of piano and vocal selections. It was a program of merit and showed the musical ability the girls of that city possess. Following this a luncheon was served by Miss Irene Worcester. The Jacksonville girls returned at 8 o'clock. They were accompanied by Mrs. Edward C. Carpenter.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hays Married Fifty Years.

The Tacoma (Wash.) Sunday Ledger has the following regarding former Morgan county people: "Mr. and Mrs. William W. Hays, who celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Friday at their home, 2904 Melrose avenue, were married in Franklin, Ill., April 16, 1865. They remained in Illinois for six years after their marriage and then removed to Sedgwick county, Kansas, crossing the plains in a prairie schooner. In their new Kansas home, Mr. Hays later established two flouring mills, operated by waterpower. They were known as "grist" mills and were the only ones of their kind in a radius of more than 100 miles. Near their homestead a townsite was laid out and when a postoffice was established there the village was named Haysville and is now surrounded by a prosperous farming community. When Mr. Hays became active in county politics the family moved to Wichita and lived there for many years, later returning to the homestead, from which they came to Washington 10 years ago, after residing in Kansas for 34 years. Mrs. Hays was Juliet Mathers Cavanaugh daughter of a physician and pioneer newspaper publisher, T. H. Cavanaugh of St. Louis, Mo. She was educated in the Women's college of Jacksonville, Ill."

LONDON CORRESPONDENCE.

(By the Associated Press)

London, April 24.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—An efficiency expert who has been assigned to special duty at the front studying possible economies in equipment and supplies, reports that there are endless opportunities for preventing waste. He says these opportunities would be just as profitable to the sum total of production as a ten or twenty per cent speeding up of the overworked factory hands in Manchester or Liverpool.

"To most laymen and many soldiers war is synonymous with waste," writes the expert, "and the question of preventing it hardly enters into the calculation of the average man."

"When war comes, a complete metamorphosis takes place. Necessity is mistress of the situation. All the checks and penalties of peace-time are inoperative. What is wanted must be forthcoming, and of these wants the executive officer is the sole judge. There is no time for inquiries; no opportunity for penalties. Is it human that the average man, up to now bound hand and foot by regulations, will have any conscientious regard for the virtues of economy?"

"This spirit of recklessness permeating all ranks is largely accountable for the preventable waste which every thinking soldier knows exists in the army today. A visit to the advance ordnance depot is instructive to the man of business of the student of economy. In walks a quartermaster or his deputy, intent on getting what he can. He probably has requisitions signed by his commanding officer, for what he wants; in addition he has one or two blank forms signed, which he will complete if he sees anything in the depot that he thinks he would like. His characteristic attitude is not 'What do I really want with a due regard for economy?' In fact he wants all he can get without regard to the wants of others. It is not surprising therefore that equipment so easily procured will be carelessly expended."

"The writer has seen good soiled clothing burning on a heap of refuse because it was easier to draw new than to wash old. He has seen articles exchanged for food with civilians or given away as souvenirs; he has seen articles left in the mud in vacated camps; ammunition trampled under foot in the trenches or scattered along the road. Some of this is inevitable in war, but not to the extent that at present exists."

"There is hardly a Belgian in the area occupied by our army that is not wearing some article of our clothing. This same disregard of economy is extended to the expenditure of ammunition, which within limits, can be saved just as well as clothing, food or other munitions of war."

"It is easy to prove the case, but more difficult to propound a remedy. The hardened official will contend that waste, if excessive, is entirely due to defective discipline, and that it is only required to tighten the discipline to stop the leakage. But while punishment of offenders may be good, prevention of the offenses is better, and the remedy is to be found, not in adding to the terrors of discipline, but in embodying the cult of economy in the fabric of army training. Supervision and accountability must also help."

"The reform could be effected after this manner. All hard and fast rules for the replacement and renewal of equipment should be abolished. The responsible officer should be allowed to draw what he wants at his discretion. Each unit should be charged up with the book value of what it consumes, it should be closely inspected at uncertain intervals to see that everything is up to standard and serviceable. Finally, due credit should be given to the unit and the commanding officer who produces the same or better results at a lower book cost. By this means, score within wise limits would be given for the exercise of administrative skill and closer individual attention on the part of all ranks would result."

"A method such as this, although outlined for peace, should also be maintained during war, to the extent that the wastage of each unit should be tabulated in the base of files and an average for similar units arrived at. Inquiry could then be made into the case of such units as unduly exceeded the average, due allowance being made for special work done by the unit."

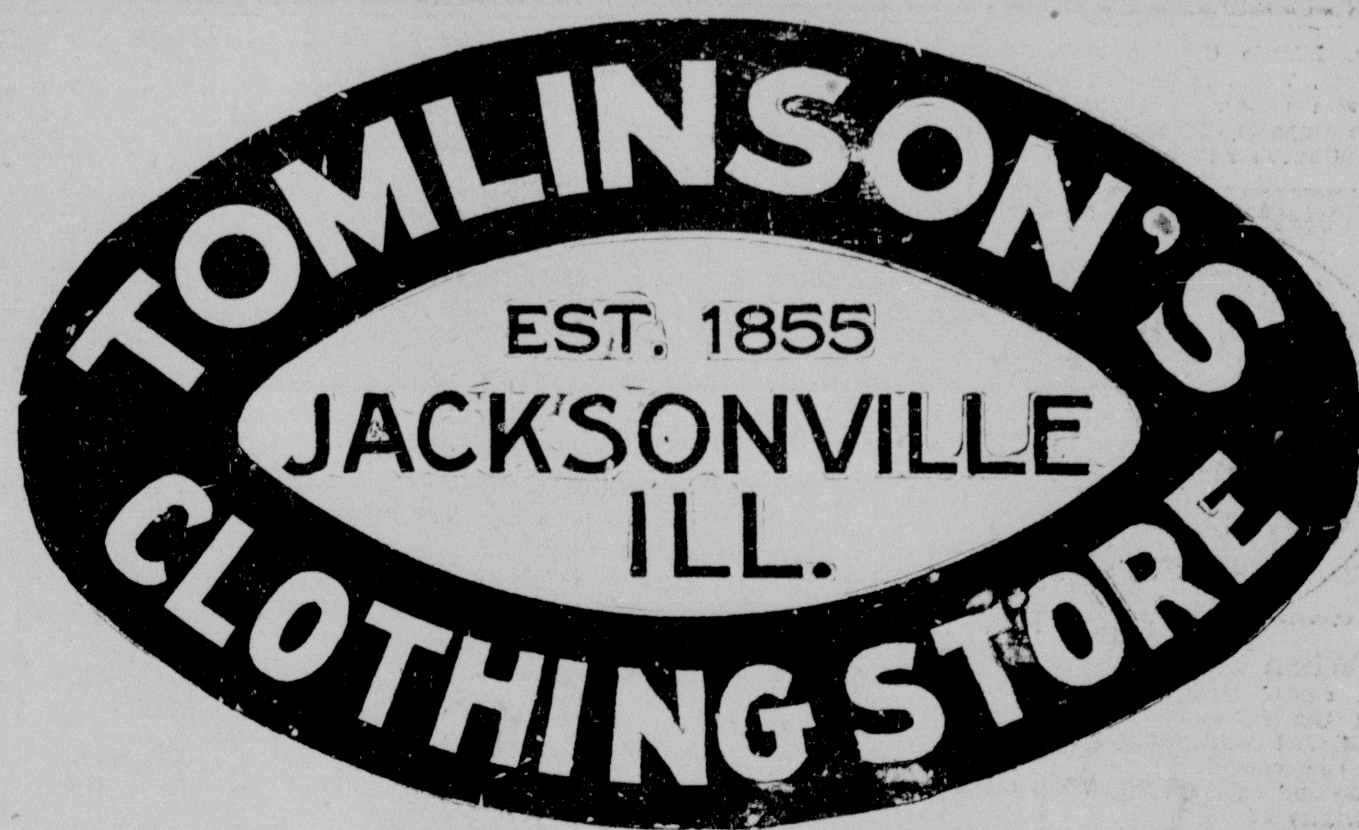

London, April 24.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Too much war-time knitting and sewing is responsible for the appearance in England of a malady which may be compared with writer's cramp or tennis elbow. The physicians call it "knitter's neuritis." It effects the upper arm and shoulder rather than the fingers and seems only to afflict those who knit with difficulty, not having practiced the art in their youth.

The only treatment is to give up knitting indefinitely.

"When any untrained set of muscles is suddenly called upon to repeat indefinitely a complex and unaccustomed sequence of movements," says a London physician, "a spasmodic paralysis is very likely to develop."

Knitter's neuritis begins with the worker feeling that the usual wrist and finger movements cannot be followed with the customary ease. Then the muscles get stiff, and in the later stage develop a spasmodic ramp as soon as the knitting needles are taken into the fingers. Although the fingers are thus affected whenever an attempt is made to knit, there is no interference with other varieties of finger movement."

London, April 24.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Chiropractors in uniform as a necessary and honored part of the British army is proposed by a London paper, inspired by the marching record of a Lancashire regiment which boasts a well known chiroprapist among its ranks. This regiment has made the hardest practice marches without a man dropping out. The reason is the fine shape the regimental feet are in.

Detached from the humdrum routine of duty, the soldier, chiroprapist spends his day peeling and paring. If every regiment had the same advantage, such things is retreats from Mons might be made without discomfort. Besides, the thing which saved the British on that occasion was the bad state of the German feet, due to new boots. The National Society of Chiropractors, which has a clinic in London for the free treatment of soldiers and sailors, is enthusiastic over the idea of a chiroprapist corps, wearing khaki and bearing the corn and razor or some other appropriate insignia on their caps.

SHANAHAN PRAISES ASSEMBLY WORK

GOOD PROGRESS MADE CONSIDERING LENGTH OF SESSION.

Members Show Disposition for Earnest Work—Speaker Says New Rules Will Show Speed Made When Bills Get to a Third Reading.

Springfield, Ill., April 24.—One more legislative week is expected to practically clean up the committee work of the Forty-ninth general assembly. By the end of next week, if the hopes of house and senate leaders materialize, little will remain for consideration in the sub-legislative bodies aside from the omnibus appropriation bills and other measures of extraordinary importance requiring special attention.

Speaker Shanahan, who has been driving the house members to unprecedented activities in the effort to make up for time lost during the record breaking deadlock over the election of speaker, is fairly well satisfied with the results accomplished up to the present time. While he has found it impossible to keep a sufficient number of members in the capital on Fridays to proceed with the regular order of business on those days, he has succeeded in pushing along the business of the session until it is far in advance of the situation at this point in previous sessions.

When the house adjourned for the week end recess, there were 187 house bills on the house calendar. Of this number eighty-eight were on third reading and seventy three on second reading. The senate calendar was of proportionately formidable proportions.

Important Hearings Scheduled.

A number of important hearings are scheduled to take place before various house committees next week. These are expected to be followed by reports to the house upon committee actions on these measures. This will clear the way for consideration of bills on third reading and free debate upon the important measures that crowd in during the last weeks of the session.

"Notwithstanding the long deadlock over the speakership, I am glad to say the house has accomplished more work than ever before has been done up to this time," said Speaker Shanahan today. "Most of the members have shown a disposition to help the speaker in every way possible to dispatch the business of the session and adjourn at the earliest possible date."

"Our progress this year is all the more notable when you take into consideration the fact that more delegations and more individuals have asked for and had hearings before house committees than ever before. These public hearings, while highly desirable, are necessarily the cause of much delay in committee work and keep many bills off the calendar weeks longer than would be the case if only the committee members were to be considered in the hearings. Requests for the setting of hearings on particular measures at specific dates, continuances and postponements for one cause or another frequently result in delays that keep many bills in committee late in the session."

Good Progress Made.

"In the face of these obstacles we now have a calendar which for size resembles the closing days of a session. There are nearly two hundred bills on the calendar and half of this number on third reading. With most of these, little remains except the calling of the roll upon their passage, so that when the house takes up the order of third reading they can be ground out at the rate of several dozen a day."

"The house is working under a new policy this year and it is one that ought to prove highly satisfactory. Instead of wasting days discussing bills on second reading and then going over practically the same long drawn out debate on third reading, we are trying to get everything up to third reading with as little delay as possible. The discussion there and vote each measure up or down on its merits, without clogging the machinery with useless debate."

"The fact that we have passed no more bills than ordinarily up to this time indicates nothing, as under the new house policy we are trying to get everything on the calendar instead of spending part of every legislative day passing bills, with the result that a great many never would get out of the committee."

"After we get them on the calendar everybody's bill will have an equal chance with every other and no one should have just cause for complaint that his measure was not treated fairly."

All Have Equal Chance.

"I believe the house committees will have their work practically cleaned up by the end of next week. This of course, with the exception of the omnibus appropriation bills and other important bills which will then be free for full discussion. We will then be ready to tackle the order of third reading and should be able to turn out bills more rapidly than ever before."

SEATTLE HONORS SHAKESPEARE

Seattle, Wash., April 24.—The newest Drama League in the United States will inaugurate today the pageantry of olden days by presenting a pageant of Shakespearean characters, in celebration of the 351st birthday of the Great English poet. Over 300 young society people of the city are taking part, the procession being divided into four parts, depicting the Merchant of Venice, As You Like It, Midsummer Night's Dream and Twelfth Night. Shakespeare himself will be there, with Queen Elizabeth and other famous characters of the old England. The pageant will be given out of doors in Volunteer Park.

SPY TRIAL WILL BE SENSATIONAL EVENT

German-American Faces Serious Charges on Monday—American Neutrality Involved—Claim U. S. Base of Spy Operations.

London, April 24.—Preparations for the trial of Anton Kueperle, who claims to be an American citizen, on the charge of sending military information from England to Germany and having in his possession information and paraphernalia of a spy, have been completed, and the trial will proceed at the Old Bailey on Monday. It is expected to be one of the most sensational trials incident to the European war, inasmuch as the neutrality of the United States is involved in the repeated charges that the German spy system has its base in New York, and the cases of Loeb, Steigler and other Germans have been pointed out as disclosures of the methods adopted of using American passports as the basis of the entire fabric of the spy system.

Kueperle's claim to be an American citizen has brought to his aid the diplomatic representatives of the United States. He will have a fair trial, and will be given every opportunity to disprove the charges brought against him. There are many things to explain away, for it is said the British authorities will spring some new and astounding information in regard to his doings since he came to England a dozen weeks ago.

It is no secret, however, that a tip came over the cable from New York to watch Kueperle, and Scotland Yard detectives were put onto his trail when he landed. The visitor claimed to be a salesman. After stopping in London a week he left for Dublin. After a few days there he told the authorities he intended to go to Liverpool and sail for New York. Instead, he came to London and engaged a room at a hotel. There he is said to have been visited by several men, among them, it is alleged, one Muller and one Hahn, who will also go to trial for treason with Kueperle on Monday.

On the night of Feb. 18, Kueperle packed his grips and set out for the continent. He was unable to get across a channel. It happened that on the night he selected to leave there were no ships crossing the channel from Folkestone. Disappointed he went back to his hotel, where the detectives placed him under arrest. His capture was kept secret, and he was conveyed to the Tower of London. Detectives who had been shadowing Muller and Hahn took these men also into custody.

It was in the suitcase carried by Kueperle that the evidence was found which will be produced against him. It is said that this evidence included information of a vital nature, concerning the naval and military secrets of England. It is believed he acquired the information from others, and was selected for the difficult job of getting the information to the German authorities. It is said that the information was written in invisible ink, which, when treated by the British authorities, became perfectly legible. "Communicating naval and military information to the enemy by writing in invisible ink to various addresses on the continent" are the terms of the official charge against Kueperle, Muller and Hahn. It is also said the American was equipped with codes, instructions, addresses and all the paraphernalia of spydom.

The importance of the discovery alarmed the government, for it showed the extent of the spy system and its cleverness. Kueperle had landed on British soil, and without knowing anyone here had acquired in five days sufficient information to be of the greatest importance to Germany. The authorities make no secret that this case is the most important of the war, enabling the authorities to lay bare a most elaborate system of obtaining information.

Kueperle, Muller and Hahn will be tried next week. Kueperle, on account of his claim to American citizenship, will be tried before the Lord Chief Justice. A court-martial was dispensed with in his case, in courtesy to the United States. If convicted, he will be shot as a spy in the Tower, in the same manner as Hans Lody met his death. Kueperle in his indifference to the charges, is following the same tactics as Lody. There is still a veil of mystery about the American connections of Kueperle which the latter has not yet tried to remove.

The American diplomats are watching all of the developments in the case, and all of the facts brought out at the trial will be communicated to Washington.

THE THING TO DO

Now go and spend some money tainted for pure white lead and based oil, and see your residence is painted, according to the rules of Hoyle. Your wife may have a new spring bonnet, imported and supremely smart, with beads and bays and doodads on it, a triumph of the hatsmith's art; and you yourself may have new raiment, glad rags that might adorn a king, suggesting you've received the payment for those gold bricks you sold this spring; your sons and daughters may be wearing a lot of togs that can't be beat, and you'll imagine folks declaring that you Abide in Easy Street. But they will say to one another, "He puts his money on his back; he ought to hire a man and brother to paint his old disgraceful shack. With bogus pride his chest is swelling, he flaunts his gaudy rags all day, but the condition of his dwelling gives him and all his tribe away". Go, get a brush that's good and dandy, a can of paint—I'll lend you mine—and paint your house and make it nobby, and help to make the village shine. Go demonstrate that you're a dandy at boosting up the painter's trade, and men will say you are a dandy, and pat you on the shoulderblade.

GIRLS! THICKEN AND BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR.

Bring Back Its Gloss, Lustre, Charm and Get Rid of Dandruff.

To be possessed of a head of heavy beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, finely wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance; freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine, and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this—Advertisement.

Clears Skin—Stops All Blood Troubles

Goes Right Down to Where the Germs Start
From.

The action of S.S.S., the famous blood purifier, is notable in the skin. It is but natural that blood impurities should seek an outlet. Water, soap, oil and nearly all the active products of nature seek the surface. It seems to be a cosmic law. Even our thoughts will undertake to find expression. And so whatever we take into our system will eventually come out changed in form, converted often into some other substance, but constituting always either waste or that which has served its useful purpose and must be eliminated. And the skin is the principal avenue for escape of certain acids or poisons. If the skin and blood be healthy, these wastes pass off as vapor or perspiration. But impure blood loads the skin with eczema, pimples, acne, rheumatism, rash, fever blisters, blood risings and other eruptions. And S.S.S. has been found the very best, safest and most effective remedy to purify the blood and thus restore the skin to clear and attractive health. Get a bottle today of any druggist, but be emphatic. Do not allow anyone to hand you a substitute. Wrapped around the bottle is an interesting circular that tells you how to obtain skillful advice free on any subject concerning the blood.

LAND O'NOD STORIES

FRIEND BRIAR BUSH

Billy Be By Bo Bum was just about the maddest little boy you ever saw. Yes sir, he was as mad as a hornet, and he had good reason to be. For he had got all tangled up in a briar patch, and anyone who has ever had anything to do with a briar bush knows how their thorns scratch.

You see Billy had been following the tracks of Mr. Rabbit through the White Forest, and when the trail led into a briar patch, Billy tried to follow. But the sharp little thorns grabbed his clothes and wouldn't let go until they had torn big holes in his coat and pants. Then when he did pull himself loose, the branch would spring back and scratch his face and hands. Before long Billy decided he didn't want to follow Mr. Rabbit any further, so he turned around and tried to get out of the briar patch. But it was as hard as getting out as it had been getting in, and by the time he was back in the open, he had been scratched in forty-four different places. He had just about made up his mind to cry when he heard someone laughing and there, on the top of a stump sat Tinker Teellie Tee.

"I don't see anything to laugh at," said Billy, "and you wouldn't think it was any fun either if you were as badly scratched up as I am."

"I know I wouldn't," Billy boy," replied the merry little elf, "but seeing you reminded me of that old rhyme:

There was a man in our town
Who was so wonderful wise,
He jumped into a briar bush
And scratched out both his eyes.
And when he saw his eyes were out,
With all his might and main,
He jumped into another bush
And scratched them in again.

You didn't scratch your eyes out, but I'll bet you won't try to follow Mr. Rabbit into a briar patch again in a hurry."

"Not if I know it," replied Billy. "But I don't see why blackberry bushes have thorns anyway. They aren't any good that I can see."

"Oh aren't they? Well, maybe Mr. Rabbit thinks differently," said Tinker. "If you were to ask Bunny, he would tell you that the briar bush, with its thousands of sharp little thorns, is his best friend. Why Billy boy, if it wasn't for the briar bush, Mr. Rabbit couldn't live in the White Forest a day."

"You see Mr. Rabbit has more enemies than any of the Little People and he is in constant danger of being caught and eaten. If he isn't dodging Slinker the Weasel or his cousin Sharpnose the Mink, he is running away from Fleetfoot the Fox or old Long Ears the Hound. Then he must always keep his eye peeled for Hockbeak the Hawk and Too Whoop the Owl. And last of all there are the hunters and their terrible guns. But every one of these animals is afraid of the briar bush, for they know how the sharp little thorns scratch and tear. So when Bunsybody the Bluejay shoots his warning that an enemy is about, Mr. Rabbit runs for a briar patch as fast as his legs will carry him. He knows that if he can reach the briar's friendly shelter, he will be safe. But did I ever tell you how the briars came to get their thorns?"

"Why I supposed they were always just as prickly as they are now," said Billy in surprise.

"No indeed," Tinker replied. "Once upon a time when geese were swine and turkeys chewed tobacco, when houses were made of buckwheat cakes and bricks were made of batter, the berry bushes had no thorns. But the hawks pulled the berries off with their claws; the squirrels and mice climbed over them the cattle knocked them off with their horns; the possum twitched them off with his long tail, and the deer with his sharp hoofs, would break them down. So the briar bush armed itself with sharp spikes to protect its berries and declared war on all creatures that climbed trees, had horns or hoofs or long tails. This left the briar bush at peace with none of the dwellers of the White Forest except Mr. Rabbit, who could not climb, was hornless, hoofless and had scarcely any tail at all. As Mr. Rabbit had so many enemies always on the lookout to make a meal of him, the briar bush took Bunny under its protection. So when danger threatens, Mr. Rabbit flees to the nearest briar bush, certain that its thousands of sharp little daggers will defend him against every foe."

"Well I'm glad those thorns are of some use," said Billy. "And now that I know they help protect Mr. Rabbit, I don't mind getting scratched up nearly so much. But tell me Tinker, if the briar bush is such a good friend to Bunny, why is it that so many rabbits get killed?"

"Don't you remember I told you Mr. Rabbit was the biggest coward alive," replied Tinker. "When he knows Slinker the Weasel or Sharpnose the Mink is after him, he loses all his courage and even the friendly briar bush can't save him, for he gets too frightened to run to its shelter but just sit down to wait until he is caught."

"You know Billy boy, if a person won't help themselves, all the friends in the world can't keep them out of trouble."

mitted to enter the larger realm of privilege and development in God's greater universe.

For a period of twenty-four years we worked together in sunshine and shadow. When the way seemed hard and problems pressed for solution, her counsel and love made all smooth and solved all questions. A home where love and good-will abides is the most sacred spot of earth; that, we have enjoyed to the fullest.

Early in the morning, as it began to dawn on the first day of the week, the tired earth-house released the soul for the flight to the land where pain is unknown. Our faith and hope will give strength for the tasks that yet will come. The son grown to manhood, shaped and fashioned by a hand and heart ever sacrificing and loving, remains with me.

"With thanks to the Good Father for His never-failing goodness and the promises of His Gospel, we say not, 'Good-night,' but in some brighter, clime, will say, 'Good-morning!'"

OBITUARY.

Joanna, daughter of George and Elizabeth Jarrett, was born near Selins Grove, Pa., April 18, 1844, departed this life April 21, 1915, aged 71 years and 3 days. She was married to A. J. Runyan of Concord forty nine years ago and for the past 35 years she had made Loami, Ill., her home. Three children were born to them, one dying in infancy and one son died five years ago, this leaving one son, Roy, of St. Louis, a devoted husband, five grandchildren, two sisters Mrs. Kate Jarrett of Selins Grove, Pa., and Mrs. H. S. Ogle of Jacksonville to mourn her death besides other relatives and a host of friends.

She died at the home of her husband's niece, Mrs. Addie Filson of Concord, where they came last December for a visit, taking sick a few days after their arrival. She was a great sufferer, but her strong faith in Christ was her hourly comfort. She was laid to rest Friday in the Loami cemetery by many friends and neighbors. Those who attended the funeral from this county were her sister, Mrs. H. S. Ogle and daughter, Mrs. Wolfe, H. E. Ogle and wife, from Jacksonville, and Geo. Lewis and wife, Wm. Filson and sister of Concord.

THE POOR MAN

AND HIS POVERTY
At the Sunday evening service at Grace church Rev. J. W. Miller will discuss the subject, "The Poor Man and His Poverty." A study of the conditions that produce poverty and the forces that tend to improve the conditions of the poor. In this study of poverty the mission of the church will be chosen and the ultimate goal of Christianity with reference to man's earthly conditions. All are welcome.

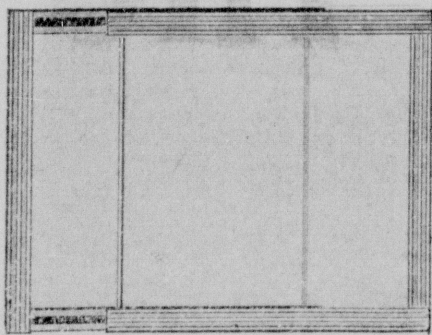

An Appreciation.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES.

On Saturday, April 17th, the St. Louis society of Illinois Woman's college held its annual reunion and luncheon at the Mercantile club, at Seventh and Locust. The time before luncheon was spent in greeting old friends, a delightfully informal decorated table, in a private room of the club. The decorations were in yellow and blue, most fitting for the Woman's College spirit with which the entire company was overflowing. After a delicious luncheon had been served, informal talks were given by Dr. and Mrs. Harker, Miss Neville, Miss Peril Hess and Miss Alma Harrel, who went as guests of the society. Every year the interest in this annual affair increases, and judging from the things that were informally and eagerly discussed during the afternoon, a Woman's college girl loses none of her enthusiasm after she has left school. The plan of a "Get Together Day" for Founder's Day, was proposed by Dr. Harker, and was warmly received. It already shows promise of great success because an "old girl" is always ready to join hands with the present and future to insure a greater, stronger college, ever increasing in its influences.

The Springfield Society of Illinois Woman's College held its annual reunion and luncheon at the St. Nicholas hotel Saturday, April 24th. Forty of the graduates and former students of the college were in attendance as well as Dr. and Mrs. Harker, Mr. Stearns and Mrs. Lambert. Plans for increasing the interest and effectiveness of the Springfield Society were discussed and arrangements made to carry them forward.

Next Tuesday, April 27th, the Senior class will follow the established custom of planting a tree. This year the Magnolia will be used.

Miss Amy M. Motherhead, the Dean, is in Chicago for a few days. Miss Nellie A. Knopf, head of the Art department, is visiting relatives in Evanston. Mrs. John W. Scott, of Rolla, Mo., is visiting her daughter, Miss Olive. Mrs. W. H. Barr, with her two daughters, Aileen and Nadine, of Kansas, Ill., are visiting Miss Marjorie Barr.

Miss Mary J. Corbett, field secretary of the Young Woman's Christian Society, has been a guest at the college from Friday to Sunday.

The Phi Nu Society held their annual picnic at Gravel Springs Saturday afternoon at 4:15. This is a custom of the society and is always enjoyed by all those privileged to attend.

The annual Y. W. C. A. breakfast occurs Monday morning, April 26th. The association expects to realize a considerable sum from this sale.

The Expression Department had a pupils' recital Friday afternoon at 4:15. A splendid program was given by those taking part. On Monday evening the advanced students of the Expression Department gave an evening of reading, which was enjoyed by a large and appreciative audience.

Work is progressing rapidly on plans for the May Day exercises which are to be held on May 10th, and on the choral work for the Greek Play. The May Day this year will be in the nature of a pageant, presenting the motto of the college, "Knowledge, Faith and Service." The general arrangement of seating will serve for both this and the Greek play. The Greek Play this year will occur on May 18th, and will be given on the campus of the Woman's college.

The Bo'ny class have been going on a number of field trips the last week.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE NOTES.

Professor D. O. Clark went to act as a judge in the high school declamation contest. Professor Stella L. Cole will act as judge in the Illinois Valley declamation contest in Griggsville on Friday evening, April 30th. Ray H. Braconell, of the senior class, served as one of the judges at the declamation contest in Virginia on Friday evening. Professor Ames served in the same capacity at Roodhouse.

One of the most enthusiastic groups of students in the college is the delegation from Petersburg. Eleven students registered in the institution from the Petersburg High school this year. They had a group picture taken on Friday.

President Rammelkamp will go to Galesburg on Monday to attend the meeting of the Federation of Illinois colleges. The meeting will be held at Lombard.

The faculty of Illinois recently received formal greetings from the Faculty of Robertson college, Edmonton, Canada. The communication was a "Peace Centenary Greeting" in celebration of the hundred years peace between England and United States. By vote of the Faculty, President Rammelkamp was instructed to acknowledge these greetings from Robertson college and let extend to the Faculty of that institution greetings and best wishes from Illinois college.

Two graduates of Illinois college are on the faculty of the high school in East St. Louis: Carrie Sprecher, '07 and August J. Gummshelmer, '12.

President and Mrs. Rammelkamp will entertain the visiting teachers at luncheon on the day of the inter-collegiate meet. Indications now are that a large number of schools will be represented in the meet and declamation contest.

Miss Stella Salverson will lead the Devotional Service at Academy Hall Sunday evening. The subject will be Standards of Achievement.

Miss Corbett, one of the National Y. W. C. A. secretaries, was a visitor on the campus on Friday and addressed the Y. W. C. A. meeting.

CONSERVATORY NOTES.

The news has just come to Mrs. Wilson, that a former pupil in Chicago, Miss Mabel Preston Hall, has been engaged by the Chicago Opera Co., for at least twenty-five performances next season. Mrs. Wilson "discovered" Miss Hall, who has a marvelous dramatic soprano voice, and prepared her for Madame Ternina in Germany. Miss Hall made her debut in Dresden and had offers from both the Metropolitan and the Chicago Opera companies, choosing the latter for her American debut.

Miss Alma Forsythe acted as judge in a school contest, declamatory and musical, in Roodhouse Friday evening. Miss Forsythe went to Chicago for a few days visit on Saturday evening.

Misses Genevieve Wilson and Beatrice Dye played a piano duet at the Chapel exercises in the David Prince school last Tuesday morning.

Miss Marguerite Butler's song recital last Thursday evening was most successful. The hall was entirely filled and the applause was most enthusiastic, both for Miss Butler and for the instrumental quartet who assisted her.

Miss Hazel Bell Long's song recital is announced for Thursday, May 6th, in Recital hall.

Mrs. Bullard gave a small and informal reception for Mr. Jules Falk, violinist, last Tuesday evening after his recital in the Congregational church. Mrs. Bullard acted as accompanist for Mr. Falk and for Mrs. Helen Brown Read on this occasion.

Dean Cochran has been invited to act as judge at a musical contest in Greenfield, Ill., on Friday, April 30.

The first annual open meeting of the Phi Omicron Society of the Conservatory will be on Tuesday evening, May 4th, in Recital hall. The program for this meeting will be announced later. The public is cordially invited.

COLLEGE OF MUSIC NOTES.

Great interest is being shown in the competition for the prize music as a setting for the newly chosen college song. The harmony classes in Form and Analysis are making a special study of it.

Because of the complimentary concert given by members of the faculty of the College of Music and the School of Expression before the Morgan County Teachers' Institute, the regular bi-weekly pupils' recital was postponed this week.

Misses Anna and Grace Revis will sing a duet and Miss Eloise Capps will play a violin solo at the meeting of the College Guild next Wednesday.

Mr. Stearns, Mrs. Hartmann, Mrs. Day, Miss Glicker and Miss DeMuth appeared on the program Thursday evening given before the Morgan County Teachers' Institute.

The first year History of Music class is studying the development of Opera. In this the victrola is used extensively in illustrating the various epochs and the development from one period to another.

WAR POSTPONES ROYAL DEBUT.
London, April 24.—Princess Mary will be 18 years old tomorrow, attaining the age when, according to precedent, a princess of the royal blood makes her formal appearance in society. Had peace prevailed the occasion would have been celebrated by one of the most brilliant functions ever seen at a European court. But, to meet the wishes of King George, the only observance will be the holding of a luncheon party at Buckingham Palace, to which the princess will invite only her intimate friends of her own age.

Queen Mary's gift to her only daughter tomorrow will be a magnificent bracelet, bearing the flags of Great Britain, France, Russia, Belgium and the United States, done in jewels and gold enamel. The placing of the American flag in the beautiful setting is significant at this time, as showing the friendly attitude of the royal family to Americans.

OCEAN TO OCEAN BOWLING.

MATCH TONIGHT.
Cleveland, O., April 24.—The Cleveland Athletic Club, which won the ocean to ocean bowling match last year, again sends a strong team to the alleys tonight in the annual contest which stretches from New York to San Francisco. Chicago, which won the trophy two years ago, is also hopeful to repeat. The Pacific teams will roll the first ball at 7 o'clock, the Denver outfit at 8, central teams at 9 and the eastern teams at 10 p. m., which makes the pinfall simultaneous. The results will be wired to the New York A. C. Three strings will be rolled by each of the contesting teams.

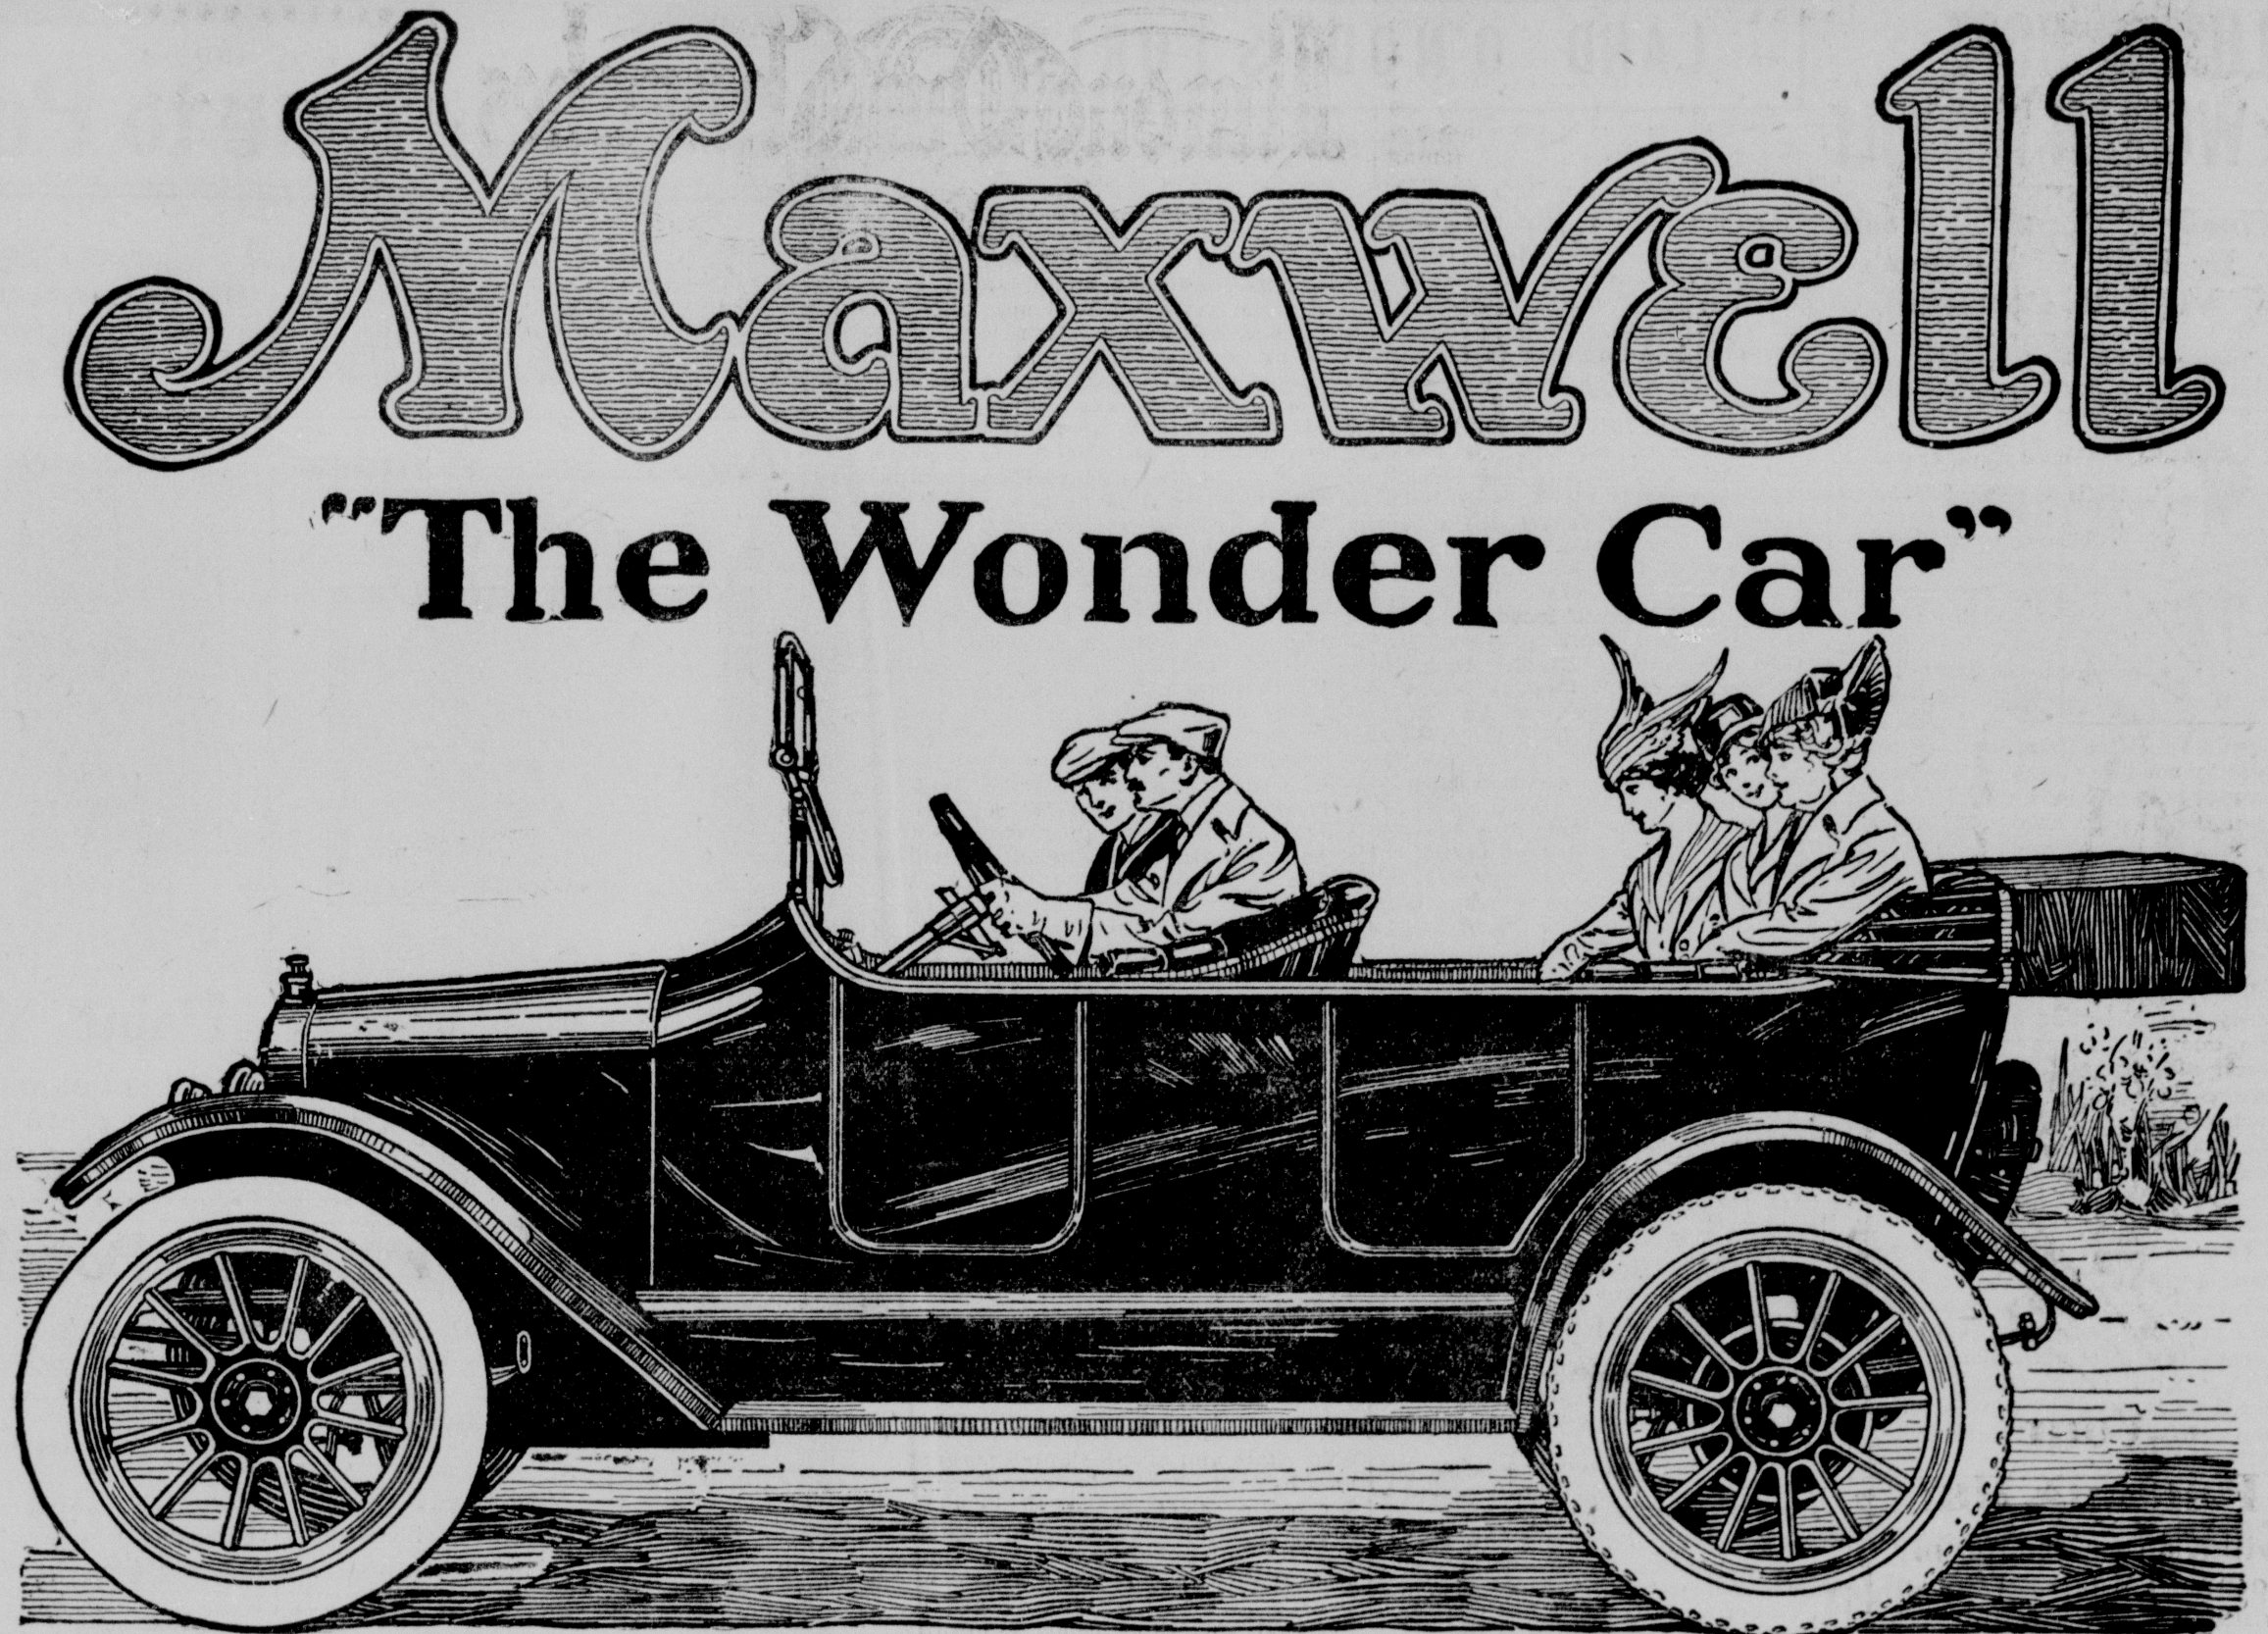

ALABAMA CHILD LABOR LAW.

IN EFFECT MONDAY.
Montgomery, Ala., April 24.—The child labor law, limiting the hours of work for minors, which was passed by the Alabama Legislature last month, goes into effect on Monday. The enforcement of the law is charged to Prison Inspector W. C. Cates.

tate of Mrs. H. F. Carriel, the sum of $900; to the estate of Mrs. L. Purcell, $225; to Mrs. T. B. Baujan, $48; to Thomas Sawyer, $27; and to Henry Alhorn for plowing and seeding land, $5. The jury consisted of C. F. Black, E. J. Henderson, T. B. Boyd, Ed S. Litter, A. W. McFarland and W. H. Cocking.

This is the car that 38,000 happy owners have given the "rough and tumble" acid test of real automobile owners' wear

An automobile on the road for 18 months in constant, every-day use by an owner ceases to be a designer's theory.

It becomes—either a great automobile success;
Or it becomes—a great automobile failure.

Multiply one model by 38,000 and give each one of these 38,000 automobiles day in and day out rough and tumble road wear, and if this car stands up and delivers, it has become one of the rare great automobile successes.

And that is the Maxwell success today—that is exactly the "Acid Test" that the Maxwell has passed through, and that is why the Maxwell is the most talked about automobile that is built today.

The Maxwell automobile is today one of the very few great automobile successes the world has ever known.

And this is the car we urge you to see. This is the car that you owe it to yourself to see. We want to tell you about its hill climbing triumphs. We want to tell you about its speed and endurance records. We want to show you and add up for you every one of its new features.

Read This List of Expensive Features. The 1915 Maxwell Has These Features And Many Others.

PURE STREAMLINE BODY

A large, roomy, beautiful body, fitted with deep, comfortable upholstery, ample leg room, adjustable front seat and the best fourteen-coat, hand-painted and striped finish. All Maxwell bodies are constructed of pressed steel, mounted on a steel-channel sectioned frame, offering the greatest possible strength with minimum weight.

SPRING SUSPENSION

Without a doubt you will find the Maxwell the easiest riding, light car made. With its ample sufficient wheel base, and semi-elliptic front springs and three-quarter elliptic rear springs, built of the very best of spring steels, the Maxwell cushions its passengers from all the jars and bumps of rough roads. It is so comfortable and easy riding that you will remark the difference on your first ride.

THE POWERFUL MAXWELL MOTOR

The most powerful, durable motor of its size made. Ample power to negotiate any road, mud, sand or hill—always at your command. Almost troubleproof, every part accessible, and what is more, it is a motor of genuine economy. More miles per gallon, day in and day out, than you would believe possible if one were to tell you. The Maxwell motor stands to-day one of the very best in dependable efficiency.

DOUBLE SHELL RADIATOR

A beautiful, troubleproof, highly efficient radiator. Every part but the shell constructed of high-grade copper. It will not corrode and leak. Protected against breakage by a heavy pressed steel shell and special shock-absorbing devices on each side of the frame that protect it against the many strains and twists of the car.

THE STEERING GEAR

Irreversible worm and gear, the only safe steering device. Maxwell uses a gear instead of a sector. This makes adjustment very simple, as you have merely to turn the gear one-quarter way and you have a new surface, just as good as a complete new steering unit.

BRAKES THAT HOLD AND LAST

One square inch of braking surface to every twelve pounds of weight. That's more than most any other car gives to-day. Maxwell brakes are thoroughly dependable, enclosed and protected from dust and dirt, and have special anti-rattling devices. Maxwell brakes are very easy to handle. The slightest pressure of the foot and your car comes to a dead stop.

The Maxwell Company's Guarantee of Service to Maxwell Owners

No other automobile is backed by a more reliable service than that guaranteed every Maxwell owner. More than 2,000 Maxwell dealers—in every part of this country—are always ready to give expert advice, to make adjustments, and to supply new parts at reasonable prices.

This splendid Maxwell dealer service organization is perfected and completed by the chain of Maxwell owned and Maxwell operated Service Branches. Sixteen great Maxwell Service Stations are so located throughout the country that a Maxwell dealer can supply any part for an owner within a few hours if not in his stock. Maxwell Service is one of the great advantages enjoyed by Maxwell owners.

Order a Maxwell from us now, and when you want it delivered, we will give you your car—not an excuse on delivery day

"HENPECKED HENRY" COMING MONDAY.

"Henpecked Henry," a ripping good show—one that should be seen by all who believe in the efficacy of laughter as a saving force of the world, will be presented at the Grand Monday and Tuesday.

In making this most successful of all musical farces over for vaudeville, the producers have gone the limit, both in production, cast and costumes. Jack Trainor, whose portrayal of the title role has placed him in a position second to none as a character comedian, heads the big show. Mr. Trainor is probably the most talked about comedian in the "tabloid game." His characterization of the sporty old banker is such that the auditor is loth to believe that the actor is not an old man with the funniest loose jointed gait imaginable, while in reality Mr. Trainor is young and decidedly prepossessing off the stage.

A company of eighteen singers and dancers support Mr. Trainor in an admirable manner. The chorus has been selected with care and dressed in quite an elaborate manner.

BIRTH RECORD.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Franz are the proud parents of a son, born Saturday, April 24th. Everybody was wondering Saturday afternoon why Michael Schneider was wearing such a broad smile, but it was all over that grandson. Mrs. Franz was formerly Miss Susan Schneider.

BAD STOMACH TROUBLE.

Yields to Delicious Vinol.
Shreveport, La.—"I had a bad stomach trouble for years and became so weak I could hardly walk or do any work. My appetite was poor, my food would not digest, I bloated and was very weak and nervous. NOTABLE BIRTHDAYS TODAY.

April 25.
Right Honorable Sir Edward Grey, Foreign Secretary in the English Government, master of diplomacy and a great personal force of the British empire, is 53 years old today. He occupies a leading position in the world today, and on his shoulders falls the weight of the foreign policy of Britain and the strengthening of friendships so important to his country in the crisis of today.

Sir Edward was born at Berwick-on-Tweed, April 25, 1862. He was educated at Oxford. He was sent to Parliament at the age of 23, and at 30 he was undersecretary of foreign affairs. The late King Leopold of Belgium recognized his worth and declared "Grey will some day be the master of Europe, and he is a man we Belgians want as a friend." Although he had no real liking for the parliamentary life, he was forced along step by step by his own genius. His acceptance of the Foreign Secretaryship in the Liberal Cabinet in December 1905, had a reassuring effect. Never had Britain furnished a statesman who held public esteem and remained in personal obscurity as has Sir Edward.

Sir Edward is an ardent radical, a supporter of woman suffrage, and advocated President Taft's suggestion of an Anglo-American arbitration treaty. It was said that he tried in every way to avoid the great European war. He struggles to the eleventh hour, cool and persuasive, trying one door after another, to prevent the clash of arms. He even went so far as to wash his hands of the consequences if France and Russia refused any reasonable solution that Germany might suggest. Then came the Belgium invasion and the die had been cast.

Sir Edward's holidays are spent fishing. He wrote a book on fly fishing, and knows the art to perfection. Lady Grey always accompanied him, up to her death, and his married life was said to have been ideal until a fatal accident removed her.

Christian Endeavor at 6:30 led by Miss Mamie Allison. All members especially urged to attend the services and all friends and strangers most cordially invited.

National Gas Range Week

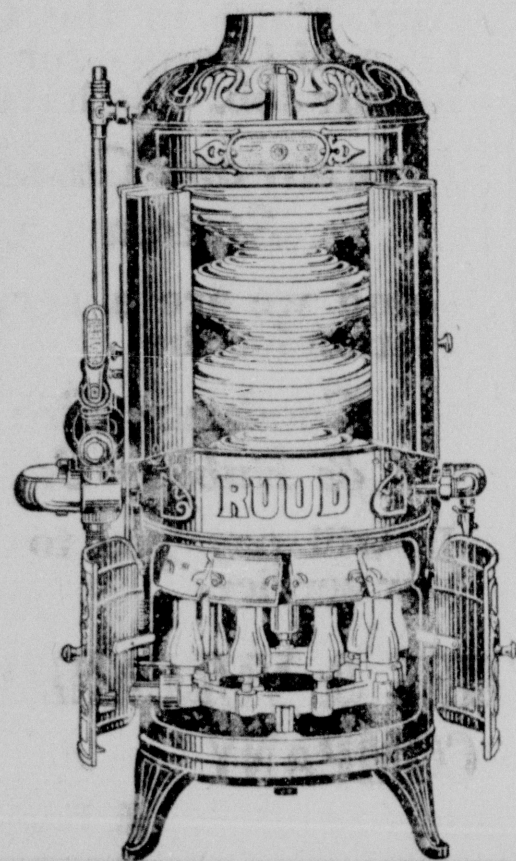

Commences Monday, April 26

The primary object of this exhibition and demonstration is to teach economy of time—how to make the necessary housework so much easier and pleasanter; how actually to "save time" so that you will "have time" when something presents itself to which you really wish to devote some attention. There are many little, simple ways of economizing on time—so simple as readily to be overlooked, yet so important. Come often and learn how always to "have time."

Domestic Science Week

Commences Monday, April 26.

Our interesting Domestic Science Demonstrations will be in charge of Miss Emma Vassar, a graduate of that department of Chicago University. These demonstrations will begin each day during the coming week at 10 A. M. and 2 P. M., and the ladies of Jacksonville and vicinity are urged to so plan their work that they will miss few, if any, of these splendid sessions. Come, learn how always to "have time."

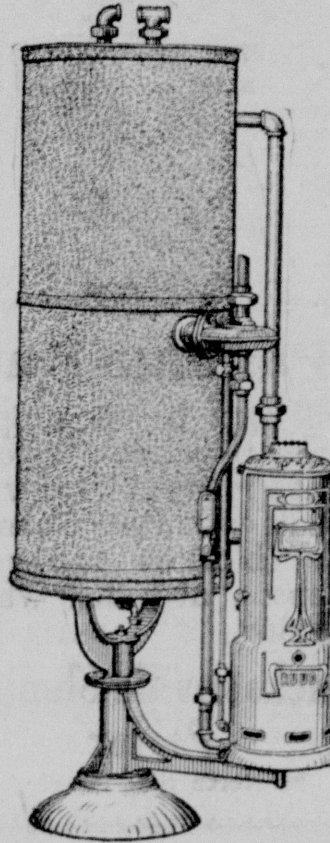

We are proud of the showing of Gas Ranges and Water Heaters that we are able to make. We want every person in this community to join with us in celebrating Gas Range and Domestic Science Week, and to that end invite you to spend a portion of your time this week with us—to come in and see the wonderful improvements that have been made in Gas Stoves and Water Heaters within the last few years. We want to show you how simple and inexpensive a thing it is to have plenty of hot water at a moment's notice; to be able to do all necessary cooking and baking in an economical and pleasant way, to have everything about the house cool and delightful. Perhaps you never have used a gas stove; or, perhaps you have an old style one. Let us explain how easy we will make it now for you to obtain any style Stove or heater that you may desire, or to exchange your old stove. We shall hope to see you often this week. Remember, that

III. The Jacksonville Alerts

Many games have been played in Jacksonville between the "Fats" and the "Leans," the Lawyers and the Bankers and even the clergy have figured in diamond contests individually and collectively. The lawyers and the Jacksonville bankers had a spirited contest in the summer of 1887 with the lawyers as victors. The personnel of this team was as follows:

William Brown Jr.
Judge H. G. Whitlock.
F. D. McAvoy.
Wm. Jennings Bryan.
Richard Reid.
John J. McKee.
Lew Hatfield.
Jerry Donohue.
John W. Springer.

Through the courtesy of William Brown, now an attorney at Chicago and U. S. Naval Officer, I am permitted to show a picture of the above team in which Wm. J. Bryan appears wearing a full beard. A write up of this team appeared in the Chicago Examiner of November 17, 1907 and referred to Mr. Bryan as captain of the Jacksonville Baseball Club of Lawyers and says that he covered first base and pulled down many a hot throw from short, third and second. The article further referred to the fact that the editor of the Commoner went with unshaven face during the whole of his career in Jacksonville.

Bantams vs. Leans.
Another interesting game was played August 7, 1883 between the Bantams and the Leans of which the following was the personnel of the two teams:

Leans.	Bantams.
Brown, cf.	Opperman, c.
Kent, ss.	Carroll, p.
Yates, ss.	Ironmonger, ss.
Alcott, 1b.	Sperry, 1b.
Johnson, 2b.	Seymour, 2b.
Rutledge, p.	Brennan, 3b.
Smith, 1b.	Clauser, 1b.
Phillips, 2b.	Helmich, cf.
Chamberlain, rf.	Yeager, rf.

Score by Innings:
Bantams.....0332659—19
Leans.....212221615—40
I am permitted to show a picture of this team through the courtesy of Mr. H. B. Jaeger.

Con Strouthers' Team.
Through the courtesy of Mr. W. H. Dalton, I am permitted to show three pictures, one of the famous team of 1894, managed by Mr. Strouthers, with the following players:

Joe Strauss, 1b.
Thomas Leitch, cf.
Charles Newman, rf.
J. G. Smith, 3b.
William Devaney, ss.
J. C. Strouthers, 1b.
Joseph Lebeck, c.
D. G. Crotty, 2b.

John Slagle, p.
George Carish, p.
F. S. Catlinger, p.
The officers of this organization were W. W. Kent, president; James English, vice-president; Arthur D. Black, secretary; James O. Vossler, treasurer. The directors were W. W. Kent, James English, E. C. Vickery, C. A. Catlin, Patrick Kiloran, George Schmaltz and William Dalton.

The personnel of the Guy Hecker team was as follows: Flynn, Kiefer, Morality, Camp, Gragg, Hecker, Connors, Pat Wright, Schaub, Briggs, and Dad Clark.

The picture of Billy Sunday shows Jacksonville playing Pittsfield on Oct. 2, 1908.

Through the courtesy of Mr. W. I. Tilton, I have here a score book which shows very well the intricacies of this important feature of the game of baseball. Harry Wright, as I have already said originated this form of scoring.

Illinois College vs. Deaf & Dumb.
A very interesting chapter could be written in connection with the baseball history of Jacksonville upon the games played between the Illinois college team and the Deaf & Dumb Browns. For many years each collegiate year witnessed a series played by these rivals for rivals they were indeed, the games being played Saturday afternoons. A large crowd of rooters were always on hand.

"Billy" Sunday as Umpire.
In this very imperfect and cursory way, I have no doubt omitted many things that have been of interest and that have marked the progress of the sport from small beginnings to its present pretentious proportions. It would not be proper, however, to close these remarks without mention of one of the greatest products of the game, whose fame is no longer confined to the diamond shaped field, but whose reputation is second to none in America today, and who has from aught to height and who seems to be a personality in a class entirely by himself. You all know to whom I refer, the Rev. Wm. A. Sunday, famous baseball player, later famous evangelist, and today, famous as the greatest evangelist that the world has ever seen. Time will not permit of a detailed discussion of Mr. Sunday as a player, but I shall show as a conclusion of my remarks a photograph of Mr. Sunday unspurring a game in Jacksonville, in 1908 at a time of his remarkable evangelistic meeting held in this city.

The Alerts of 1875.
Since the publication of the second of these sketches I have received from Rev. W. S. Phillips of Cerro Gordo a letter, inclosing photo, which adds an interesting chapter to the game locally. A cut of the photo appears in connection with this sketch and the letter reads as follows:

Cerro Gordo, Ill.
April 19, 1915.

Mr. H. H. Bancroft, Jacksonville, Ill.
Dear Bert: I am glad you are giving some time and space to Jacksonville's amateur teams, who used to play without money and without price. I am sending you a photograph of the Alerts of 1875. John A. Glover was captain, Chas. Stewart, art. manager, R. M. Hockenhuil, scorer. We played on South Main street on the common across from the hospital entrance.

Large crowds always favored us with their presence Great enthusiasm was manifested in the success of the home team. In 1875, Havana had a crack team with Sam Kyle, pitcher and Charles Foster, catcher. Kyle had speed to burn and Foster caught his cannonball delivery barehanded and without mask or protector. Peikin had also a fine team with Wildback as pitcher. He was a crafty artist. Young Green played third base and Hon. William Prettyman was short stop. Peoria had a good club that year.

When a club was coming to play us, Colonel John W. King, or some of the other former players would raise enough money for expenses of the visitors and Capt. Alex Smith of the old Park House on North Side of the square would always help out with special rates to the players.

In this group of players the regular pitcher was George H. Phillips, and Tom, H. Rapp, the catcher. James N. Brown was short stop and change pitcher. Edward M. Kinman was second baseman and change catcher. The lineup was:

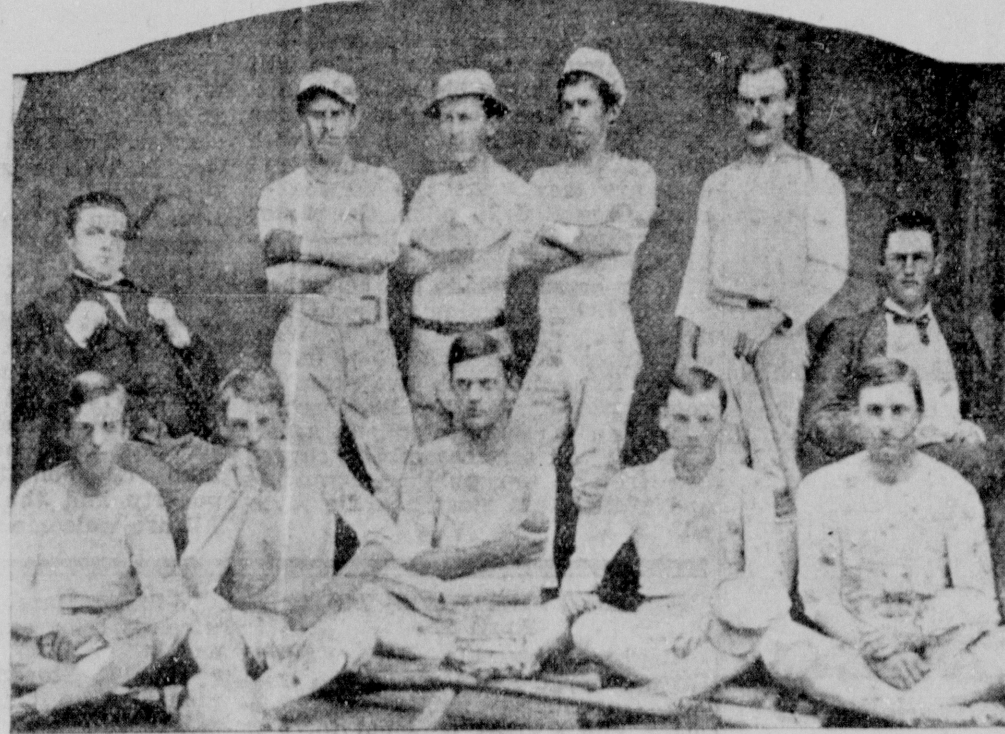

George H. Phillips, p.
Thomas H. Rapp, c.
James N. Brown, ss.
John A. Glover, 1b.
E. M. Kinman, 2b.
W. K. Barr, 3b.
W. S. Phillips, rf.
George N. Kreider, cf.
William Kinman, lf.

We played good ball for those days of the "hit and run" game. We played what was scientific ball then. Three men in the picture are dead. Charles Stewart, our aggressive and optimistic manager, Jas. N. Brown and Edward M. Kinman.

"If you print the pictures no one will sue for you libel, because each man has made his way, and still loves our national game, and you can see how we have improved in forty years. In closing I want to say that in the early days of baseball in Jacksonville, there never was a good team that did not have one of the Barr boys. All of them, Sam, Hugh and Ki, were fine players.

Yours truly,
W. S. Phillips.
Baseball a Great Game.

game as given in the Outlook of May 1819 as an overdrawn picture, but I believe it is a fair reflection of the opinion held by players and public who are all acquainted with the intricacies of the modern game. A. G. Spaulding, quoted in the Outlook of May, 1913, says "I have never struck anything in business that did not seem a simple matter when compared with complication I have faced on the baseball field. A young man playing baseball gets into the habit of quick thinking, in most adverse circumstances and under the most merciless criticism in the world, the criticism of the bleachers. If that does not train him, nothing can."

"From a spectator's standpoint, baseball is to be regarded as means of catharsis, or perhaps a safety valve. That game has a demagogic value no less important to the welfare of society than its value of develop mental and tension relieving agent. The spectator at a ball game is no longer a statesman, a lawyer, a doctor, merchant or artisan, but just a plain every day man with a heart full of fraternity and good will to his fellow men—except perhaps to the umpire."

"Again, it is a psychological commonplace that pleasurable emotions especially if they find expression in laughter, shouts, cheers and other muscle expanding noises, have a tonic value to the whole bodily system. Most decidedly, baseball is a game well designed to render this excellent service. Like every virile, vigorous game, it has its defects. But its qualities far outweigh its shortcomings. And it must be accounted a happy day for America when the first players met on the first diamond laid on American soil.

"Long may Uncle Sam play ball!"

PROTEST AGAINST CIVIL SERVICE BILL CHANGE

The Illinois and Chicago civil service reform association has issued a statement protesting against the proposed amendment of the civil service bill, giving preference to veterans of the Spanish war and the Philippine insurrection. The defeat of the bill is urged upon the grounds that:

It will decrease efficiency in the public service by allowing a veteran who passes with a grade of 70 to be placed on the eligible list above any other applicant who attains the very highest grade. In other words, it is intended to and may allow the appointment to a position of a person who has never had any experience in the given line despite the fact that other applicants competing for such position may have had years of experience. The trend of the present movement in civil service is to give practical tests to applicants for positions in the public service. A handicap of thirty points may frequently result in ignoring all experience and practice.

It will give veterans who enlisted from other states of the union a preference on Illinois civil service eligible lists.

Its adoption is based on the assumption that credit should be allowed for military service in making appointments to civil positions and no effort is made to show that such military service qualifies the applicant for civil service.

The Civil Service Reform Associations are attempting to uphold the principle of the merit system. They have no quarrel with the veterans of any war. On the contrary they believe that all veterans should be rewarded for their service in defense of the country. They do not believe, however, that the way to reward any veteran is to mix the sentiment that attaches to national defense with the business of civil service, necessarily to the serious detriment of the service. Efficiency cannot be maintained if such a course is followed. The associations do believe that the method of rewarding by pensions is far preferable.

STATE INSTITUTION PICTURES

Pupils of the state school for the deaf and a few of those at the school for the blind, in addition to the teachers from the institutions, enjoyed moving pictures shown at the Grand Opera House Saturday morning. The pictures gave views taken at the local hospital, from Kankakee, Quincy, Pontiac, St. Charles, Geneva and others of the state institutions. It was the intention of the board of administration, who had the moving pictures taken, that they should be shown at one of the state institutions, but there were no facilities here for showing the reels and arrangements were therefore made with Manager Johnson of the Grand Opera House.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

BULLISH CABLES FORCE WHEAT MARKET STEADILY UPGRADE

European Buying of Both Old and New Crop Delivery Figures in Rise—Corn and Oats Gain.

Chicago, April 24.—Bullish cables and European buying of both old and new crop deliveries forced the wheat market today steadily upgrade. There was a strong close at 1 1/2c to 2 1/2c above last night. Corn gained 1/4c to 3/8c net and oats 1/4c to 1/2c. Provisions, the outcome was unchanged to 5c down.

May wheat today sold at the highest figures since February, largely as a result of a heavy decrease expected in the United States visible supply total on Monday, a circumstance which emphasized the persistent export buying. Traders apparently could not get away from the European influence, regardless of domestic weather and crop conditions that were almost ideal for the bear side. Virtually no attention was given to reports showing possibilities of wheat production for 1915 in the United States and Canada to be greatly in excess of anything ever before indicated.

Efforts to bring about a Saturday reaction in the wheat market proved a complete failure. In the last hour especially buying of options was on a liberal scale and included all the active months.

Particular stress was laid on the increasingly urgent demand at Liverpool and the incessant stores interlocking with the natural supply of good quality wheat from Argentina.

Corn mounted with wheat and owing to reports of additional crop damage in Argentina, shows covered freely. Commission house call for September was a feature of the oats trade. Other deliveries dragged. Business in the provision pit consisted of week-end evening up. Changes in prices had little if any significance.

Fortified Tires

On the Better Road Above You

When tires go wrong, through faults which Good-year tires avoid, remember there's a better road above you. On it are some 400,000 users to whom Goodyears brought content.

Let each rim-cut suggest our No-Rim-Cut feature—the best way known to combat it.
Let each needless blow-out suggest our "On-Air" cure. At a cost to us of $450,000 yearly, it wipes out a major cause.

Let each loose tread remind you that our patent method reduces this risk 65 per cent.

Let each puncture remind you that our All-Weather tread is tough and double-thick. And each skid suggest its sharp, resistless grips.

No Other Ways

No other ways so well combat these troubles. And no other tire employs one of these methods.

That's why Goodyears hold the highest place. That's why men last year bought 1,479,883—about one Goodyear for every car in use.

Reduction No. 3

On February 1st we made our third big price reduction in two years. The three total 45 per cent. Yet we retain every costly, exclusive feature. And we spend $100,000 yearly to discover other betterments. We can and do give most for the money because of our matchless output.

You'll find that Goodyears mean less trouble, less cost per mile. The following Good-year Service Stations will supply you:

DOWN IS HELD TO GRAND JURY WITHOUT BOND

Inquest Over Remains of Fred White Concluded Saturday.

The coroner's inquest held over the remains of Fred White, who was shot and killed Friday by Frank Downs, was concluded Saturday morning. The jury, which included O. E. Tandy, foreman; J. Tabor Mathers, clerk; Frank Kitchner, R. C. Clayton, Henry Wright and N. W. Reid, brought in a verdict recommending that Downs be held to the grand jury without bond.

The verdict was in the following language: "We, the jury, sworn to inquire into the death of Fred White, do find that said Fred White came to his death by a bullet fired from a No. 32 Hopkins & Allen revolver in the hands of one Frank Downs. We further recommend that said Frank Downs be held to await the action of the grand jury without bond." All testimony Saturday, as at the previous session, was taken down in full by Henry English, court reporter.

The hearing was attended by Robert Tilton, an attorney for the people, and W. N. Hargrove, who is attorney for Downs. The only witnesses examined Saturday morning were Dr. H. C. Woltman, Frank Kiloran and Mrs. Jesse Mounts. Dr. Woltman testified that he had examined the body of White and he described the wounds made by the two bullets shot from Downs' revolver. One of these pierced White's left lung and caused instant death. Mrs. Mounts, who lives next door to the White home on East College avenue, did not add any material facts to the evidence but told of overhearing loud words and quarreling at the White home on a number of occasions. Frank Kiloran, desk sergeant of the local police force, told of Downs' surrendering to him near the northwest corner of the square Friday about noon. He identified the revolver which Downs handed to him at that time and testified that Milo Richards accompanied Downs at the time of his arrest and said that the man at the point of a revolver had insisted that he be driven as rapidly as possible from the corner of Hardin avenue and East State street to police headquarters.

"HENPECKED HENRY."
Jack Trainor is not proud of his vocal efforts. When asked, "Do you sing?" his invariable reply is: "Those who have heard me say not." Nevertheless, there are few comedians who have the faculty of singing parodies any better than Trainor. During the vaudeville tour of "Henpecked Henry" in which Trainor is starring and which will be seen here at the Grand Monday and Tuesday, applause for his songs has been such that he has been forced to make a speech almost every performance thanking the audience and requesting that the play be allowed to proceed. Trainor is the author of all his own parodies and has the "knack" of writing really amusing ones.

"Henpecked Henry" is claimed to be the funniest show in the world. In many towns the laughter has been so loud and continued that attaches of the theatre have been compelled to caution the laugher against so much noise.

PRELIMINARY WORK TO BEGIN MONDAY ON STATE AID ROAD

Fred Straub, Grading Foreman, Expects to Bring Equipment from Carlville Today in Preparation for Morton Road Improvement.

Improvement of the Morton road pursuant to the recently granted state aid will begin Monday morning if the plans work out as announced by Fred Straub, grading foreman for the Herrick Construction Co. of Carlville. The contractors are expected to follow within a short time and the entire work will take from thirty to sixty days. Mr. Straub was in the city Friday and in conversation with J. M. Starr, a member of the executive board of the good road association said grading tools would be on the ground Sunday evening. He stated also that work is usually begun on that part of the road farthest from cities although he did not state that the same plan would be followed here. As before mentioned the hard road will be eighteen feet wide with four foot shoulders of gravel and will be constructed of crushed rock and gravel topped with concrete.

Fifteen hundred feet more than ordinarily called for may be improved this year, road authorities say, as the sixteen thousand dollars provided it seems will more than suffice for the forty-four hundred feet specified. Morton road residents, east of Jacksonville, will be highly gratified to learn of this probability as the above addition would bring the improved strip to a mile and six hundred and twenty feet.

The committee appointed to raise money for pavement of road along the 600 feet between the end of the brick on Morton avenue and the city limits report a fund of $1285 and it is expected that sufficient money for this part of the work will soon be secured. The fund has been subscribed by farmers along the road and will serve to make the construction complete.

The Jacksonville-Springfield Good Roads association of Morgan county was organized in the fall of 1913 with M. E. Greenleaf as president, and J. W. Arnold as secretary. After definite choice of route was made it has busied itself with plans for improvement and with the state appropriations, as provided by the Tice law, was enabled to secure bids for putting in the hard road.

LOCAL CONCERN PLANS TO MANUFACTURE POST HOLE DIGGERS

Triple Tool Company is Licensed to Incorporate With Capital of $10,000—E. E. Crabtree is President and F. J. Blackburn, Treasurer and General Manager.

The secretary of state yesterday issued a license to incorporate to The Triple Tool company of this city. The company has a paid up capital of $10,000 and has been organized for the purpose of manufacturing Goheen post hole diggers. E. E. Crabtree is president of the company and Fletcher J. Blackburn is the treasurer and general manager, the other stockholders being Edward E. Goheen and J. W. Walton. An office has been secured in the Farrel bank building and will be opened this week.

The post hole digger which the company will manufacture and sell was designed by Edward E. Goheen. Last summer Mr. Blackburn became interested in the digger as he considered it the best tool of the kind that he had ever seen. He acquired an interest in the model and then took the necessary legal steps to have it fully protected by patent. Subsequently an order was placed for a thousand or more diggers with a manufacturing plant near Chicago and they have been on the market since January. Much of the work of introducing the digger has been done outside of Morgan county and has met with such success that Mr. Blackburn, who is the general manager of the concern, has certain evidence of what can be done. He has proceeded cautiously all the way, having determined to try the invention out, thoroughly as to its uses and the favor that would be accorded, before venturing into the business in a larger way.

In other words the value of the tool has been practically demonstrated and a great many testimonials have been received indicating its value as a working tool. Two telephone companies have tried it out and given their approval.

Mr. Blackburn had a number of opportunities to sell stock in the company, away from Jacksonville, but preferred to organize locally and the whole amount of the stock has been subscribed. The digger is termed a triple tool because it can be used for digging post holes, as a spade or for ditching work. It is a simply constructed tool, durably made and so designed that it makes comparatively easy work of post hole digging. The rapidity with which it can be used is a feature.

The Goheen Post Hole Digger consists in the main of a straight strong wooden handle varying in length in accordance with the kind of digging; a shank or ferrule, one leaf spring and a steel blade similar to that of an ordinary spade but cupped properly for digging purposes. Near the upper end of the blade is attached a case hardened eye so constructed that it has three flat surfaces for the pressure of the spring which rests in the ferrule and bears upon this eye. The blade is thus held rigidly in three positions. First, in a perpendicular position for cutting the dirt loose; second in the position of a right angle for removing the dirt from the hole; third, at an acute angle for refilling purposes or for use as a ditching tool. The ferrule is so flattened as to accommodate the spring and fits into a slot made in the blade purposely for its reception.

Close to the upper end of the spring the ferrule is pierced by a set screw which comes in contact with the spring and is used to give the desired tension, according to the kind of digging.

The company will push the business in a very active way and is ready to place a large additional order for diggers. Later on it is possible that the work of manufacturing can be done here in Jacksonville.
